Chairperson Buis noted these years' inductees include an athlete who participated at an elite level and achieved outstanding and extraordinary success as a competitor, and a builder who made an outstanding and extraordinary contribution towards the promotion, development, and advancement of basketball as a therapist.

"It is a great lens on our sport as we welcome individuals whose accomplishments are truly memorable. I would like to thank the Basketball BC Hall of Fame Committee for their hard work in the selection process and the Basketball BC Board for their work in receiving the selections." President Graham noted that "this is Basketball BC's 18th year of celebrating Hall of Fame inductees after a 3-year absence due to the pandemic. These two join the Class of 2020 that includes a cross section of inductees representing excellence in individual play and participation, tremendous coaching successes, the best of officiating and national championship team play and champions. I look forward to a wonderful night of celebration for the 2020, 2021, and 2022 classes."
